Put the number of the sentence into the correct columns and explain what effect the sentence has on the reader.

1. The Egyptian girls were jealous, for they wore clumsy shoes made from papyrus.
2. Although her master was kind, he liked to doze beneath the luscious fig tree.
3. At that very moment, the falcon dropped the rose-red slipper into his lap.
4. He tracked the desert where pyramids tower over the sand, and he climbed the steep cliffs where falcons nest.
5. The servant girls knew that shoe, and knew its owner too.
6. When Rhodopis dared to lift her eyes, she saw the falcon soar away.

Compound sentence	Complex sentence	Effect on the reader